#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Godrej Consumer Products, which reported positive signs of a turnaround underway, with growth across categories in India, and a return to growth in Indonesia and Africa. Midea rose on expectations of solid earnings results, as external industry data pointed to strong demand for Midea's air-conditioner units. China Mengniu Dairy weakened on concerns about its capital allocation strategy. In a recent meeting with the CEO, this topic was discussed and it was suggested that Mengniu will prioritise profit growth going forward. LG Household & Healthcare declined, driven by weakness in the cosmetics division amid a challenging macro environment.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases included Unilever Indonesia, the consumer packaged group's subsidiary in Indonesia. While its performance had been disappointing for a number of years, the problems have now been acknowledged and a number of changes are underway. New top management have been appointed, while the focus is on product innovation and higher brand investment.

The Fund divested Mediatek on concerns about negative future top-line growth and potential margin disappointment. The Fund also sold LG Household & Health Care as the company continues to struggle with increased competition and challenges in the China market.

Outlook

After the excesses built up over the years, it would not be surprising if there were more dislocation ahead. Inflation and interest rates look set to remain elevated, putting pressure on costs and demand, while the growth outlook (and indeed expectations for a recession) seem the countervailing force.

From a bottom-up perspective, while this operating environment presents a challenge, these are also opportunities for the companies in the portfolio. Dominant market leaders with strong balance sheets should benefit from uncertainties in the external environment, and their pricing power will be on display.

Such franchises emerge much stronger through these periods, often with higher market shares and superior profitability. The Fund remains excited about the long-term prospects of the companies in the portfolio.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Netease, which gained after the management reiterated its positive outlook for the business. Midea rose on expectations of solid earnings results, as external industry data pointed to strong demand for Midea's air-conditioner units. On the negative side, JD.com reported slower than expected revenue growth due to increased competition. China Merchants Bank declined as China's property market slowdown fuelled concerns on mortgage repayments and bank stocks in general.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases included Haier Smart Home, a leading global home appliances manufacturer with a solid franchise in refrigerators and washing machines. It is the only domestic player with a strong presence in the high-end segment and is ahead of peers in terms of international expansion, with most of its overseas sales coming from its own brands. The Fund also bought Centre Testing, the biggest private testing, inspection and certification company in China. The company's prospects are liked given the potential for industry consolidation, gaining market share from inefficient state-owned enterprises and deepening business with key accounts such as Wal-Mart.

SEB and Jiangsu Hengrui Medicine were sold to consolidate the portfolio into higher conviction ideas.

Outlook

In recent months, members of the team visited Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangdong Province to meet with companies. It now appears that the initial optimism around China's post-Covid reopening has been tempered with a more conservative outlook about China's mid-term growth. Although pent-up demand had helped to boost restaurants and travel, the economy in general has been more lacklustre.

Despite the near-term weakness, the Fund remains positive about China over the long term. As China matures, investor expectations will eventually adjust to a slower rate of growth. With this backdrop in mind, the Fund continues to look for companies that have good management, strong competitive advantages and attractive returns. The companies the Fund likes to own are typically industry leaders that should benefit from gaining market share over weaker rivals, or those that have been improving their returns and expanding their customer markets.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Detractors to performance included Jack Henry & Associates (US: Financials) and MonotaRO (Japan: Industrials). Jack Henry is a well-managed company but could find it difficult to navigate a shrinking customer base longer term. MonotaRO's long term prospects look sound but the company faces cyclical headwinds near term from slowing end markets.

Positive contributors included, Watsco (US: Industrials) which benefited from consistently strong demand for heating and air conditioning driven by structural tailwinds and Fortinet (US: Information Technology) which continues to benefit from its leading technology position and growing cybersecurity investment.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund took advantage of valuations during the period and added to a number of high quality names including CSL (Australia: Health Care), industrial conglomerate Mahindra & Mahindra (India: Consumer Discretionary) and HDFC (India: Financials) the leading provider of housing finance in India, among many others.

The Fund sold positions in Coloplast (Denmark: Health Care), Synopsys (US: Information Technology), and Jack Henry & Associates on valuation grounds. The Fund also sold Techtronic Industries (Hong Kong: Industrials) due to reduced conviction in the quality of financials, and Natura (Brazil: Consumer Staples) due to reduced conviction in the quality of management and their ability to reverse the fortunes of the franchise.

Outlook

The Fund continues to worry about the flood of cheap money which will require unwinding at some stage. Until recently inflation has remained low for a long time, inequality in society is the highest ever, government and corporate balance sheets are stretched and the world has experienced benign geopolitics for decades. The Fund cannot predict if, and when, these risks come to bear. The Manager remains steadfast in their belief that investing in well managed companies with, strong and improving market shares and sustainability positioning, safe balance sheets and reasonable valuations should continue to deliver sound risk adjusted returns in the face of constantly evolving or unchanged macroeconomic conditions.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Hisense Home Appliances, which rose after reporting stronger-than-expected profits, driven by its air conditioner businesses. Netease gained after the management reiterated its positive outlook for the business. On the negative side, JD.com reported slower than expected revenue growth due to increased competition. China Merchants Bank declined as China's property market slowdown fuelled concerns on mortgage repayments and bank stocks in general.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund purchased Haier Smart Home, a leading global home appliances manufacturer with a solid franchise in refrigerators and washing machines. It is the only domestic player with a strong presence in the high-end segment and is ahead of peers in terms of international expansion, with most of its overseas sales coming from its own brands.

The Fund sold Link REIT, China Vanke and Xiaomi on recent strength, to consolidate the portfolio into better opportunities elsewhere.

Outlook

In recent months, members of the team visited Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangdong Province to meet with companies. It now appears that the initial optimism around China's post-Covid reopening has been tempered with a more conservative outlook about China's mid-term growth. Although pent-up demand had helped to boost restaurants and travel, the economy in general has been more lacklustre.

Despite the near-term weakness, the Fund remains positive about China over the long term. As China matures, investor expectations will eventually adjust to a slower rate of growth. With this backdrop in mind, the Fund continues to look for companies that have good management, strong competitive advantages and attractive returns. The companies the Fund likes to own are typically industry leaders that should benefit from gaining market share over weaker rivals, or those that have been improving their returns and expanding their customer markets.

Performance

Tata Motors gained after reporting strong growth as well as improvement in free cash flow generation. Mahindra CIE Automotive climbed after profits and sales growth remained strong, as the company managed to pass through higher raw material costs to customers. On the negative side, Indus Motor declined after sales and profits dropped, with headwinds including local currency depreciation, high inflation and rising auto financing costs for its customers. United Breweries fell after reporting a net loss amid inflationary pressures, and the resignation of the CEO.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund bought Tata Motors, a leading Indian automotive manufacturer. Over the past 5 years, the business has been the focus of intensive restructuring following a period of poor capital allocation. Things are finally moving in the right direction, with all of its businesses improving in profitability and debt likely to be reduced via strong free cash flow generation. The Fund also bought Mphasis, a mid-sized IT services companies. The CEO Nitin Rakesh has delivered well since his appointment in 2017, with strong sales growth and solid margins.

The Fund sold IIFL Wealth Management, Bharti Airtel, Grasim and Tata Consultancy Services to consolidate into better opportunities elsewhere.

Outlook

Recently, the Indian market has been ebullient, resulting in a fresh batch of new initial public offerings. As usual, the Fund has stayed away, despite sell-side brokers constantly chiding for leaving money on the table. At the same time, the Fund is keenly aware of the joke about the economist who walked past a hundred-dollar bill on the sidewalk, stating that someone else would have picked up the money already if it were real.

Instead, the aim is to carefully toe the line between discipline and flexibility. It is a fundamental belief that investment success in the long run is rarely defined by bouts of brilliance; rather, it is the careful and consistent application of principles, process, and philosophy. Simple, yes; but not at all easy.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

In what was still a rising rate environment, the Fund underperformed relative to its benchmark over the first half of the year.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund began the year underweight in US rates, but moved to an overweight relative to its benchmark by the 2nd quarter of 2023 given the anticipation of a pause in the Fed's rate hikes and how much yields have rose during the earlier part of the year. This long bias in US rates was slightly negative for performance as US yields continued to edge higher.

In May, the Fund adjusted positions to include more Asian local currency exposure by extending its underweight in European rates (Germany, Spain and France) and entered an overweight in Indonesian and Malaysian Government Bonds vs the benchmark. The long Malaysia Government Bond position hurt performance as the Ringgit depreciated due to interest rate parity effects versus other markets.

Mexican Government Bonds were also added on the view that the Mexican peso could have appreciation potential against the greenback in the longer term. The Fund's exposure in Mexican rates was positive for performance as the Mexican peso became one of the top performing currencies against the US dollar over the first half of the year.

An overweight in the Japanese yen also detracted from performance given the weakening of the yen observed over the 2nd quarter of 2023.

The Fund maintains small credit exposures via investments in short-dated, high quality USD credits.

Outlook

Inflation in Asia is relatively benign when compared to developed markets, giving Asian central banks more flexibility to cut rates to spur growth should the need arise. Many Asian central banks have paused their rate hikes in recent weeks as inflation moderated further. The Fund remains constructive on the region's longer-term growth prospects as Asian economies continue to move up the value chain in the global economy.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

The Fund underperformed the benchmark over the first half of the year.

Portfolio Changes

Duration positioning was kept steady. The Fund went from a marginal underweight in US rates to a slight overweight in March, before reaching a neutral position versus the benchmark by the middle of the year.

The Fund purchased Hong Kong Government International Bonds at the beginning of the year via the primary market to increase duration.

Outlook

It is expected that the second half of the year will be constructive for Asian credit markets. It is difficult to fathom 10 consecutive rate hikes amounting to more than 500bps not having any effect on the economy. Despite headline growth data still coming in above expectations, particularly in terms of consumption data, a large part of this is attributed to a sharp increase in household debt in the form of credit card and home equity loans, rather than a robust job market and strong wage growth. In other words, it is not believed that a debt-fuelled economy is sustainable if interest rates stay elevated. While the US regional bank crisis appears to be contained for the time being, the root trigger of the crisis - risk-free T-bills still yielding higher than deposit rates – remains, leading many to ponder what else remains beneath the seeming calm. The more obvious path is that further tightening of credit conditions will restrict economic growth for the foreseeable future.

Inflation in Asia is relatively benign when compared to developed markets, giving Asian central banks more flexibility to cut rates to spur growth should the need arise. In fact, many Asian central banks have paused their rate hikes in recent weeks as inflation moderated further. The Fund remains constructive on the region's longer-term growth prospects as Asian economies continue to move up the value chain in the global economy.

The Directors have decided to terminate the Fund as a result of its limited distribution potential going forward, which may result in difficulty in maintaining an economically efficient pool of assets in a long run. As such, and in considering the best interests of the Shareholders, the Directors have taken the view that the Fund is no longer commercially viable and it is no longer appropriate to continue to operate the Fund in these circumstances.

Performance

The Fund's overweight bias in US rates during a period of rising rates detracted from performance.

Activity

In anticipation of the end of the Fed's rate hikes, the Fund kept a long bias in duration positioning throughout the first half of the year, moving from its neutral positioning to a gradual overweight in US rates.

In Asian credits, the Fund purchased Hong Kong Government International Bonds at the beginning of the year via the primary market to increase the Fund's duration.

Outlook

Debate abounds on the US Federal Reserve's next move. It is believed that the end of the current rate hike cycle is close. With core inflation now below the Fed fund rate, it does give the Fed an opportunity to take a pause and assess the impact of the past year of rate hikes before deciding on their next step.

Despite headline growth data still coming in above expectations, particularly in terms of consumption data, a large part of it could be attributable to a sharp increase in household debt in the form of credit card and home equity loans, rather than a robust job market and strong wage growth. In other words, the Fund is of the view that a debt-fuelled economy is sustainable if interest rates stay elevated. The more obvious path is that further tightening of credit conditions will restrict economic growth for the foreseeable future.

The Directors have decided to terminate the Fund as a result of its limited distribution potential going forward, which may result in difficulty in maintaining an economically efficient pool of assets in a long run. As such, and in considering the best interests of the Shareholders, the Directors have taken the view that the Fund is no longer commercially viable and it is no longer appropriate to continue to operate the Fund in these circumstances.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Taiwan Semiconductor (TSMC) which was buoyed by the positive sentiment on AI-related stocks. Sinbon Electronics added to performance with strong earnings growth on the back of robust demand from the industrial, medical and auto segments. On the negative side, JD.com reported slower than expected revenue growth due to increased competition. China Merchants Bank (CMB) declined as China's property market slowdown fuelled concerns on mortgage repayments and bank stocks in general.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases included Haier Smart Home, a leading global home appliances manufacturer with a solid franchise in refrigerators and washing machines. It is the only domestic player with a strong presence in the high-end segment and is ahead of peers in terms of international expansion, with most of its overseas sales coming from its own brands.

The Fund also purchased Yifeng Pharmacy, a leading organised pharmacy business that should gain share in a fragmented market. The group operates more than 9,000 drugstores across ten provinces. Meanwhile, the founder is young and has a good reputation. Macro tailwinds include the ageing population and prescription outflows from hospitals to private pharmacies.

There were no significant disposals during the period.

Outlook

In recent months, members of the team visited Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangdong Province to meet with companies. It now appears that the initial optimism around China's post-Covid reopening has been tempered with a more conservative outlook about China's mid-term growth. Although pent-up demand had helped to boost restaurants and travel, the economy in general has been more lacklustre.

Despite the near-term weakness, the Fund remains positive about China over the long term. As China matures, investor expectations will eventually adjust to a slower rate of growth. With this backdrop in mind, the Fund will continue to look for companies that have good management, strong competitive advantages and attractive returns. The companies that are liked are typically industry leaders that should benefit from gaining market share over weaker rivals, or those that have been improving their returns and expanding their customer markets.

The benchmark for class I changed on 9 December 2021. The above data includes a switch from MSCI Singapore and Malaysia Index to MSCI AC ASEAN Index.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Jardine Cycle & Carriage as it reported better than expected earnings results driven by rebounding profitability at Astra. Delfi, the market leader in chocolate confectionery in Indonesia, reported strong revenue and earnings growth, with improved margins and inventory management. On the negative side, Carlsberg Malaysia reported a drop in first-quarter profits from a year earlier, due to lower volumes as well as higher input costs and marketing expenses. Similarly, Thai Beverage fell amid rising input and marketing costs, combined with weak demand for beer in Vietnam and Thailand.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund purchased Kasikornbank, the second largest bank in Thailand with a 17% deposit share. After several years of poor macro conditions and asset quality issues, credit costs have peaked and returns on assets (ROAs) have troughed. The Fund likes how the management is becoming stricter around lending standards, as approval rates have fallen in areas like unsecured loans while the formation of non-performing loans is slowing down.

The Fund sold Mitra Adiperkasa, Venture Corporation, Thai Beverage and Public Bank to consolidate the portfolio into more attractive opportunities.

Outlook

While Asian equities may be going through a challenging period at the moment, one of the key attributes in our search for quality companies is sustainable business models that are attractive not only from a one to two year perspective, but throughout the business cycle. The Fund continues to invest in businesses that have proven management teams and competitive advantages that allows them to capitalise on the long-term secular trends across Asia. Whether it is the formalisation of the ASEAN economies, higher healthcare spending due to ageing populations, or conservative banks gaining market share, the investment opportunities are plenty.

And, despite a challenging macroeconomic backdrop, great management teams are experienced at navigating tough environments and usually find ways to emerge from them in a stronger position than before. The prospects for the portfolio holdings remain bright over the long term.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Godrej Consumer Products, which reported positive signs of a turnaround underway, with growth across categories in India, and a return to growth in Indonesia and Africa. Astra Otoparts, a market leader in Indonesia's auto-components industry, has been a major beneficiary of the recovery in the nation's automotive sector. On the negative side, LG Household & Healthcare declined, driven by weakness in the cosmetics division amid a challenging macro environment. China Mengniu Dairy weakened on concerns about its capital allocation strategy.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases included Unilever Indonesia, the consumer packaged group's subsidiary in Indonesia. While its performance had been disappointing for a number of years, the problems have now been acknowledged and a number of changes are underway. New top management have been appointed, while the focus is on product innovation and higher brand investment.

The Fund also bought Philippine Seven, which operates more than 3,000 7-Eleven convenience stores in the Philippines. There is still plenty of room for growth, based on the low penetration rate compared with other emerging markets. The Fund also likes the management's long-term thinking and ownership culture.

The Fund divested Mediatek on concerns about negative future top-line growth and potential margin disappointment. The Fund sold LG Household & Health Care as the company continues to struggle with increased competition and challenges in the China market.

Outlook

After the excesses built up over the years, it would not be surprising if there were more dislocation ahead. Inflation and interest rates look set to remain elevated, putting pressure on costs and demand, while the growth outlook (and indeed expectations for a recession) seem the countervailing force.

From a bottom-up perspective, while this operating environment presents a challenge, these are also opportunities for the companies in the portfolio. Dominant market leaders with strong balance sheets should benefit from uncertainties in the external environment, and their pricing power will be on display. Such franchises emerge much stronger through these periods, often with higher market shares and superior profitability. The Fund remains excited about the long-term prospects of the companies in the portfolio.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Keyence, which delivered strong sales growth against the uncertainty of the slowing global economy. Midea rose on expectations of solid earnings results, as external industry data pointed to strong demand for Midea's air-conditioner units. On the negative side, JD.com fell on concerns of slowing sales growth and rising competition. Anta Sports reported weaker than expected performance of Anta brand sales in the year to date.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases over the period included Shenzhen Inovance, an industrial automation company that has increased market share over the past few years. The company stands out in terms of its stable management team, its energetic drive and ambition. The Fund also bought Kasikornbank, Thailand's leading commercial bank with high capital levels, a robust deposit franchise and strong digital capabilities. Valuations have fallen close to where it was during the Asian Financial Crisis. Return on equity should recover to attractive levels as asset quality issues subside.

The Fund sold Realtek, which has benefited from the previous two years' cyclical strength. Its margin profile is not as attractive as its integrated circuits (IC) designer peers, as the business includes many long-tail consumer connectivity products. The Fund also divested Vietnam Dairy Products (Vinamilk), as it has struggled to keep up with the competition.

Performance

In an environment of rising rates and thin market liquidity in Asian Credit, the Fund delivered negative returns.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund began the year largely neutral in US rates, but increased duration in March given the anticipation of a pause in the Fed's rate hikes and how much yields rose in February. The overweight in US rates detracted from performance.

Amid an extremely slow primary issuance market, most of the Fund's primary market purchases took place early in the year. Names that acquired via the primary market included HK Government International bonds, HK Airport Authority, Rural Electrification Corporation (Rec) Limited, as well as PT Pertamina Geothermal. During March, the Fund also added property exposure on improved sentiments in the sector as compared to 2022. Some switches were also made amongst the higher quality property names for better yield pickups.

On slowing signs of further rate hikes by the Fed coupled with expectation of further recalibration Bank of Japan's Yield Curve Control policy, the Fund added exposures in Japanese yen.

The Fund benefitted from the overall tightening of investment grade credit spreads over the first half of the year. Positions in Indonesian quasi-sovereigns were positive for performance. The Fund got off to a strong start in 2023 as Chinese property bonds rebounded on the back of China's reopening. However, as the months progressed, some outperformance was shaved off as China's economic recovery lost its momentum.

Outlook

The Fund remains constructive in Asian Investment Grade (IG) credit while staying selective in Asian High Yield. Despite signs of slowing earnings and weaker economic activity in the region, fundamentals of Asian IG corporates remain sound. Considering the mounting macro uncertainty, valuations are starting to look rich, despite modest weakening in Asian IG credit metrics within still solid territory.

Nevertheless, high all-in yields well above 5% does makes this asset class attractive from an income carry perspective. The bias is to look for idiosyncratic and relative value opportunities. In Asian High Yield, survivors in the Chinese high yield property sector may provide short-term trading opportunities. Significant upside returns potentially reside among distressed names who survive the debt restructuring process, and these names could benefit from improvement in pre-sales figures.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

In an environment of increasing US rates and thin market liquidity in credit markets, the Fund underperformed the benchmark.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund began the year largely neutral in US rates, but moved to an overweight relative to its benchmark in March given the anticipation of a pause in the Fed's rate hikes and how much yields have risen in February. In Indonesia, the Fund increased positions via the primary market (PT Pertamina Geothermal) as well as in the secondary market in names such as Pertamina Persero PT and Indofood. The Fund also reduced an underweight in South Korea by participating in Korean corporate issuances (SK Broadband Co Ltd., Hyundai Capital America).

Despite low primary issuance over the first half of the year, the Fund nevertheless managed to acquire bonds that were deemed attractively priced, particularly at the start of year (Hong Kong Government International bonds, Hong Kong Airport Authority, Exim Bank Korea, Posco Co Ltd, Woori Bank, and SK Hynix).

In currencies, the Fund was tactical in CNH exposures but closed positions in EUR exposures following a strong rally since the end of 2022. The Fund added exposures in Japanese yen on slowing signs of further rate hikes by the Fed coupled with expectations of further recalibration in the Bank of Japan's Yield Curve Control policy.

Where cash was not deployed, the Fund invested excess cash in US T-bills for attractive front-end rates.

Outlook

Despite signs of slowing earnings and weaker economic activity in the region, fundamentals of Asian Investment Grade (IG) corporates remain sound. Considering the mounting macro uncertainty, valuations are starting to look rich, despite modest weakening in Asian IG credit metrics within still solid territory.

Nevertheless, high all-in yields well above 5% does makes this asset class attractive from an income carry perspective. The bias is to look for idiosyncratic and relative value opportunities.

Inflation in Asia is relatively benign when compared to developed markets, giving Asian central banks more flexibility to cut rates to spur growth should the need arise. Many Asian central banks have paused their rate hikes on moderating inflation. The Fund believes in the region's longer-term growth prospects as Asian economies continue to move up the value chain in the global economy.

Performance

The main detractors to performance over the period were EPAM Systems (US: Information Technology) which declined due to valuation and rising interest rates. It remains a resilient business with long-term client relationships that they continue to invest behind and Yifeng Pharmacy Chain (China: Consumer Staples) which declined on no significant news and the company continues to scale up.

The main positive contributors were Taiwan Semiconductor (Taiwan: Information Technology) which continues to reinvest behind their research & development and manufacturing leadership in advanced chips, benefiting from the structural growth tailwinds of the use of chips in an ever growing number of end applications. The family-owned Indian conglomerate Mahindra & Mahindra (India: Consumer Discretionary) was a strong contributor, improving capital allocation decisions and bringing a deeper focus on returns.

Portfolio Changes

Significant purchases over the period included Walmart de México (Mexico: Consumer Staples), known as WalMex. WalMex is the dominant grocery retailer in Mexico and Central America, with overwhelming scale advantages. The Fund also bought semiconductor supplier Infineon Technologies (Germany: Information Technology) which specialises in chips that control power supply and has great exposure to rapidly growing end markets, like renewable energy, smart grids and electric vehicles and re-initiated a position in Globant (Argentina: Information Technology), an IT services company that primarily serves US corporates in their digital transformation projects.

The Fund exited robotics company Estun Automation (China: Industrials) and chip designer MediaTek (Taiwan: Information Technology), on valuation grounds and the belief there are more attractive alternatives available. The Fund also sold Natura (Brazil: Consumer Staples) due to reduced conviction in the quality of management and their ability to reverse the fortunes of the franchise.

Performance

Property securities were up in the period, although rising interest rates and sustained high inflation continue to affect global property markets.

Risks of a recession are still high, as growth continues to slow, although resilient consumer spending data and healthier than expected labour markets provided a surprise to the upside in the period which benefitted the sector.

In the period, the American and Japanese markets performed the best, while surprise interest rate hikes in the UK and a slower than expected recovery in China have hampered property markets in each respective region.

The largest contributors to performance were overweight holdings in American single family housing REIT American Homes 4 Rent and American multi-family housing REIT Equity Residential. Both companies benefitted from a resilient US employment market and improving consumer confidence in the period. The Fund also benefitted from American Seniors housing REIT Welltower as the company continues to report increases in occupancies as the sector recovers.

The largest detractors from the Fund's performance were investments in US Healthcare REIT Healthpeak Properties and large Hong Kong property landlord Hang Lung Properties.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund entered a position in Eastgroup properties a Sunbelt focused industrial REIT in the period. Eastgroup are positioned to continue to deliver solid organic and incremental external growth. The Fund also initiated a position in Equinix, a US focused data center REIT in the period

The Fund also reduced its position in Rexford Industrial Realty in the period. The Fund reduced its position due to concerns of negative absorption and flattening rent growth concerns in Los Angeles and inland industrial markets.

Outlook

Increases in the cost of debt and lower levels of debt availability are expected to place pressure on real estate values, however the Fund is optimistic on property types that are able to continue to demonstrate continued pricing power going into an economic slowdown.

Furthermore, strong structural trends such as e-Commerce adoption, demographics and aging populations, decentralisation of cities, falling home ownership rates and the growth in data consumption should continue to drive performance into the future in both up and down markets.

Performance

Property markets throughout Asia continue to be influenced by macroeconomic forces as changes in monetary stance and varying speeds of reopening continue to drive performance.

The Hong Kong property sector continues to be influenced by China's lacklustre performance whereas markets such as Japan and Australia have been more reactive to increases in interest rates over the period.

The largest contributors to performance were overweight holdings in large Japanese property companies Mitsui Fudosan and Tokyu Fudosan. Both companies continued to benefit from elevated global inflation expectations, earnings upgrades and continued improvements in ESG credentials. The Fund also benefitted from its exposure to Kenedix Residential, which rallied after the announcement of a potential merger.

The biggest detractor from performance was the Fund's position in Japanese logistics REIT GLP JREIT, which underperformed due to concerns around tighter monetary policy in Japan. The Fund's position in Hong Kong property companies Link REIT and Hang Lung Properties also detracted from performance in the period due to a slower than expected reopening of China.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund added Diversified Japanese REIT, Daiwa House REIT to the portfolio in the period. The Fund also increased its exposure to Swire properties in the period. Swire has the best ESG credentials in Hong Kong and China and has a well-positioned portfolio in the region.

The Fund exited its position in Vicinity Centres as sentiment in consumer spending in Australia declined. The Fund also exited its position in Kenedix Office REIT after the stock rallied post the announcement of the potential merger.

First Sentier Asian Property Securities Fund

Outlook

The overall strategy in Asia is to have a balanced portfolio with a focus on having a low risk balance sheet and strong earnings and dividend growth potential in the region.

In Japan, the Fund remains invested in large property companies that have benefitted from sustained levels of higher inflation and are receiving strong earnings momentum.

In Hong Kong, the Fund maintains its strategy of selected exposures to the Hong Kong property sector with a focus on balance sheet strength and recurring cash flows. China's changes in relation to the management of covid is significant to the recovery of property fundamentals in North Asia, albeit from a very low base.

In Singapore, the lodging sector is particularly well placed in the medium term as flight capacity and China's tourist arrivals continue to normalise. However, the SREIT sector is highly leveraged and facing headwinds from higher debt costs, inflationary pressures and cap rate expansion.

In Australia, the Fund remains positive on exposures that demonstrate strong capital management credentials in periods where interest rates are expected to continue to increase.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Netease, which gained after the management reiterated its positive outlook for the business. Midea rose on expectations of solid earnings results, as external industry data pointed to strong demand for Midea's air-conditioner units. On the negative side, JD.com reported slower than expected revenue growth due to increased competition. China Merchants Bank (CMB) declined as China's property market slowdown fuelled concerns on mortgage repayments and bank stocks in general.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund bought Centre Testing, the biggest private testing, inspection and certification company in China. The company's prospects are liked given the potential for industry consolidation, gaining market share from inefficient state-owned enterprises and deepening business with key accounts such as Wal-Mart. The Fund also bought Kanzhun, the leader in China's online recruitment industry. It has disrupted the industry with a recommendation-based direct chat model, and has superior user engagement and recruitment effectiveness over its peers.

The Fund sold Xiaomi on recent strength, to consolidate the portfolio into better opportunities elsewhere.

Outlook

In recent months, members of the team visited Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangdong Province to meet with companies. It now appears that the initial optimism around China's post-Covid reopening has been tempered with a more conservative outlook about China's mid-term growth. Although pent-up demand had helped to boost restaurants and travel, the economy in general has been more lacklustre.

Despite the near-term weakness, the Fund remains positive about China over the long term. As China matures, investor expectations will eventually adjust to a slower rate of growth. With this backdrop in mind, the Fund continues to look for companies that have good management, strong competitive advantages and attractive returns. The companies the Fund likes to own are typically industry leaders that should benefit from gaining market share over weaker rivals, or those that have been improving their returns and expanding their customer markets.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

AENA (Spain: Airports), CCR (Brazil: Toll Roads) and Transurban (Australia: Toll Roads) outperformed on robust passenger / traffic volumes during the first half of 2023.

Crown Castle (US: Towers / Data Centres) underperformed on concerns for rising interest rates and future tower leasing demand. Duke Energy (US: Utilities / Renewables) and Entergy (US: Utilities / Renewables) also lagged, reflecting investor preference for less defensive assets during the period under review.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund added a holding in Southern Company (US: Utilities / Renewables), whose Southern US service territory has generally constructive regulatory frameworks. A position was initiated in Altagas (Canada: Utilities / Renewables). The company's assets include high growth US natural gas utilities and strategically located energy midstream assets in Western Canada. West Japan Railway (Japan: Railroads) was also added to the portfolio.

First Sentier Global Listed Infrastructure Fund

After passenger volumes reduced during the COVID-19 pandemic, the stock is now positioned to benefit from the normalisation of business activity and a recovery in tourist volumes.

The Fund divested Aurizon (Australia: Railroads) after a shift in strategic direction away from its core businesses of regulated network operation / maintenance and coal haulage, and towards bulk haulage (transporting grain, fertiliser and cotton). Holdings in Pembina Pipeline (Canada: Energy Midstream) and ONE Gas (US: Utilities / Renewables) were also sold after robust share price gains moved both stocks to lower rankings within the Fund's investment process.

Outlook

The outlook for the asset class is positive. Public policy support for infrastructure investment remains strong globally, particularly for the replacement of aged infrastructure assets and the buildout of renewables. Utilities are in the midst of a multi-decade structural growth story, with decarbonisation, electrification and resiliency spend representing large and growing investment opportunities.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Astra, which climbed after reporting earnings which beat consensus estimates. The management expects to benefit from Indonesia's continued economic recovery and softening commodity prices. Samsung Electronics rose on expectations of a turnaround in its memory business, and a growing share of external customers for its foundry business. On the negative side, LG Household & Healthcare declined, driven by weakness in the cosmetics division amid a challenging macro environment. China Mengniu Dairy fell on concerns about its capital allocation strategy.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases included Tata Motors, a leading Indian automotive manufacturer that also owns Jaguar Land-Rover (JLR). Over the past 5 years, the business has been the focus of intensive restructuring following a period of poor capital allocation and resultant decline in margins. Things are finally moving in the right direction, with all of its businesses improving in profitability and overall debt likely to be reduced via strong free cash flow generation.

The Fund also bought Kasikornbank, Thailand's leading commercial bank with high capital levels, a robust deposit franchise and strong digital capabilities. Valuations have fallen close to where it was during the Asian Financial Crisis. Return on equity should recover to attractive levels as asset quality issues subside.

The Fund sold Ping An on concerns about the quality and complexity of the business, and divested Newcrest Mining as it surpassed fair market valuation on the back of the takeover bid from Newmont Mining.

Outlook

After the excesses built up over the years, it would not be surprising if there were more dislocation ahead. Inflation and interest rates look set to remain elevated, putting pressure on costs and demand, while the growth outlook (and indeed expectations for a recession) seem the countervailing force.

From a bottom-up perspective, while this operating environment presents a challenge, these are also opportunities for the companies in the portfolio. Dominant market leaders with strong balance sheets should benefit from uncertainties in the external environment, and their pricing power will be on display. Such franchises emerge much stronger through these periods, often with higher market shares and superior profitability. The Fund remains excited about the long-term prospects of the companies in the portfolio.

#The Fund's performance is not managed in reference to a benchmark.

Performance

Rising interest rates in key regions have increased the yield on the portfolio and helped the Fund generate favourable returns in the first half of 2023. Economic data remained reasonably resilient during the period, suggesting major economies might be able to withstand the impacts of higher borrowing costs. This augurs well for corporate profitability and helped support sentiment towards credit.

Volatility spiked briefly during March following banking failures in the US and Europe, although confidence was quickly restored and the market recovered its lost ground.

Portfolio Changes

New investments during the period included ABN Amro (Netherlands: Financials), Prologis (USA: Real Estate), and Tesco (UK: Retail), all of which are attractively valued in our view following weakness in these sectors.

Significant sales included Anheuser-Busch InBev (Belgium: Beverages), Bayer (Germany: Pharmaceuticals), and Deutsche Telekom (Germany, Telecoms).

Significant Events

The portfolio is currently in a transition phase, which has resulted in meaningful changes to the Fund's exposures. The portfolio is being reoriented towards companies that make positive and sustainable contributions to the environment and whose activities slow the process of climate change.

Outlook

Investors will continue to scrutinise the latest economic data indicators and dissect the wording of central bank policy statements, for clues regarding possible changes in monetary policy settings. With inflation proving to be sticky in nature in most key regions, it seems likely that interest rates will remain elevated for a prolonged period. This prospect does not appear to have been fully reflected in market valuations, in our view, and there could be some market volatility as investors consider the potential impacts of a 'higher for longer' interest rate environment.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Taiwan Semiconductor (TSMC), which was buoyed by the positive sentiment on AI-related stocks. Nvidia added to performance as it reported better than expected earnings and a significant boost to its forward guidance.

On the negative side, LG Household & Healthcare declined, driven by weakness in the cosmetics division amid a challenging macro environment. JD.com fell on concerns of slowing sales growth and rising competition.

Portfolio Changes

New purchases included Lasertec, a leading semiconductor production equipment company in Japan with a monopolistic market share of EUV-related inspection systems globally. With an optimistic outlook on global semiconductor demand, Lasertec's monopolistic position, fair treatment of customers, and its innovative "craftman's spirit" should lead to more years of stable growth from here.

The Fund also bought Recruit Holdings, a leader in the global human resources (HR) industry. Recruit's main growth driver is its HR technology business, primarily through Indeed, the largest online career search engine in the world. Valuations have fallen significantly, arguably on historically high earnings and margins. However, Indeed can continue taking market share from other recruitment channels.

There were no significant disposals during the period.

Outlook

After the excesses built up over the years, it would not be surprising if there were more dislocation ahead. Inflation and interest rates look set to remain elevated, putting pressure on costs and demand, while the growth outlook (and indeed expectations for a recession) seem the countervailing force.

From a bottom-up perspective, while this operating environment presents a challenge, these are also opportunities for the companies in the portfolio. Dominant market leaders with strong balance sheets should benefit from uncertainties in the external environment, and their pricing power will be on display. Such franchises emerge much stronger through these periods, often with higher market shares and superior profitability. The Fund remains excited about the long-term prospects of the companies in the portfolio.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Ajinomoto, as its strong franchise and long-term growth potential in semiconductor materials and the healthcare business offset weakness in its frozen foods business. Keyence rose after delivering strong sales growth against the uncertainty of the slowing global economy. Key detractors included Olympus, which announced weaker-than-expected results and forward guidance, with rising costs around quality assurance and regulatory affairs being a key headwind. Nihon M&A Center was lower as its net profits lagged the company's previous guidance, with fewer transactions and risks of delays in its existing pipeline.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund purchased Tosoh, a chemical company with a long history of operation in Japan. Its historical return and growth profile is decent, while it has a strong franchise in specialty chemicals. In addition, its past efforts to reduce debt have set the stage for higher shareholder returns. The Fund also bought Tokyo Ohka Kogyo, a global leader in manufacturing photoresist (a key material in the photolithography and photoengraving processes in semiconductor production). It has 25% market share and is reasonably valued compared with peers, while memory chips are at the bottom of the cycle.

FSSA Japan Equity Fund

The Fund divested S-Pool on concerns about a potential slowdown in its temporary staffing business and potential regulatory risk.

Outlook

Given the uncertainties around the global outlook, the portfolio is positioned predominantly towards companies with exposure to domestic demand. From recent meetings with management, there is optimism that the rebound in consumer demand post-Covid restrictions is expected to gather momentum as more tourists travel to Japan; companies are continuing to invest in digital transformation projects; and Japanese companies relying on the global economy are preparing for a potential slowdown in demand.

The companies the Fund likes to own are managed by strong management teams and can generate sustainable earnings growth and return on equity without relying on leverage or the macro environment. The Fund also owns regional consumer companies, global industrials and medical equipment/services companies with dominant franchises, strong balance sheets and steady cash flow. These businesses should remain relatively defensive in the event of a recession.

Performance

Enel (Italy: Utilities / Renewables) outperformed during this period, supported by undemanding valuation multiples. SSE (UK: Utilities / Renewables) gained after upgrading earnings guidance. Inwit (Italy: Towers / Data Centres) rose on hopes of consolidation within the European towers space.

NextEra Energy (US: Utilities / Renewables) and Eversource Energy (US: Utilities / Renewables) lagged, reflecting investor preference for less defensive assets during the period under review. Crown Castle (US: Towers / Data Centres) also underperformed, on concerns for rising interest rates and future tower leasing demand.

Portfolio Changes

The portfolio initiated a position in Edison International (US: Utilities / Renewables), which generates, transmits and distributes electricity within a southern California service territory. Two renewables developers, Solaria (Spain: Utilities / Renewables) and Atlantica Sustainable Infrastructure (US: Utilities / Renewables), were also added to the portfolio.

A position in Entergy (US: Utilities / Renewables) was divested on concerns for a less constructive regulatory environment in its Louisiana service territory. Sempra Energy (US: Utilities / Renewables) and Emera (US: Utilities / Renewables) were also sold after respective periods of strong performance.

Outlook

The Fund invests in a range of listed infrastructure assets including toll roads, airports, railroads, utilities and renewables, wireless towers and data centres. These sectors share common characteristics, like barriers to entry and pricing power, which can provide investors with inflation-protected income and strong capital growth over the medium-term. The Fund's focus on sustainable development, guided by the UN Sustainable Development Goals, can create opportunities for positive risk-adjusted performance. It can generate investment ideas, as well as lowering the overall risk profile of a portfolio through a better understanding of Responsible Investment-related risks.

Performance

Key contributors included Alsea, after the management guided for robust sales growth and decreasing leverage despite an aggressive expansion plan. More recently, the company released first-quarter results which beat consensus estimates. Taiwan Semiconductor (TSMC) was buoyed by the positive sentiment on AI-related stocks.

On the negative side, Amorepacific declined on South Korea's renewed diplomatic tensions with China, a key market for the beauty-product company. JD.com fell on concerns of slowing sales growth and rising competition. The franchise is still solid, consumer mindshare is strong (especially among mid to high income groups) and valuations are very attractive.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund purchased Shenzhen Mindray Bio-Medical Electronics, China's largest medical device manufacturer. The company has a strong track record of innovation and growth and has been gaining market share in both overseas and domestic markets.

There were no significant disposals over the period.

Outlook

The Fund continues to invest in businesses that have proven management teams and competitive advantages that allow them to capitalise on the long-term secular trends that exist across emerging markets. Whether it is the formalisation of the Indian economy, the continued financialisation of the South African population or the growing adoption of enterprise resource planning (ERP) software by small-to-medium-sized Brazilian companies, the investment opportunities are plenty. Yet, these kinds of businesses are often not well represented in broader indices and thus a bottom-up active investment approach has much value to add.

FSSA Global Emerging Markets Focus Fund

As 2023 progresses, the holdings continue to offer long-term attractive compounding opportunities and analysis suggests that they can grow earnings at around 20% compound annual growth rate (CAGR) on a weighted average basis over the medium term. For this kind of growth, the portfolio's aggregate valuations, at around 5% free cash flow yield or a 22x price-to-earnings ratio (PER) seem reasonable (and sustainable). This looks optimistic from both an absolute and a relative perspective.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

The main performance detractors were DiaSorin (Italy: Health Care), whose business has been impacted by a reduction in covid-related sales and Vitasoy (Hong Kong: Consumer Staples) which continues to experience stock price pressure relating to sales in China but fundamentals are improving.

On the positive side, Fortinet (US: Information Technology) whose strong market position, leading technology position and robust tailwinds for cybersecurity investment continued to do well and Watsco (US: Industrials) benefited from consistently strong demand for heating and air conditioning driven by structural tailwinds and excellent execution.

Portfolio Changes

Over the period the Fund initiated positions in Assa Abloy (Sweden: Industrials) which focuses on security products from locks to biometric access and Advanced Drainage Systems (US: Industrials), a water management company whose share price weakness allowed a reasonable entry point to a strong franchise. In addition the Fund re-invested in Edwards Lifesciences (US: Health Care) which is a high-quality cardiac valve supplier. The valuation had fallen significantly since the Fund divested.

The Fund divested from Tomra (Norway: Industrials), a long-term holding from the inception of the Fund, due to increasing concerns over their margins, competition and outlook versus its valuation. The Fund also sold out of its position in Rational (Germany: Industrials) as the valuation crept back up amidst concerns over the outlook for commercial kitchens.

Outlook

While Stewart Investors do not make macro predictions, it is hard to escape the feeling that current headlines sound ominously familiar to those of a decade and a half ago. The Manager continues to meet with, analyse and invest in high-quality sustainability franchises, run by competent and honest people, and with strong financials, as they believe this is the best way to protect and grow clients' capital over the long term.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

The main detractors to performance over the period were Vitasoy (Hong Kong: Consumer Staples) which continues to experience stock price pressure relating to sales in China but fundamentals are improving and EPAM Systems (US: Information Technology) which declined due to their valuation and rising interest rates. It remains a resilient business with long-term client relationships that they continue to invest behind.

On the positive side, family-owned Indian conglomerate Mahindra & Mahindra (India: Consumer Discretionary) was a strong contributor, improving capital allocation decisions and bringing a deeper focus on returns. Taiwan Semiconductor (Taiwan: Information Technology) was also a positive contributor. The company continues to reinvest behind their research & development and manufacturing leadership in advanced chips, benefiting from the structural growth tailwinds of the use of chips in an ever growing number of end applications.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund initiated new positions in Globant (Argentina: Information Technology), an IT services company primarily serving US corporates, Infineon Technologies (Germany: Information Technology), the IT company whose sales are predominantly in Asia and Zhejiang Supor (China: Consumer Discretionary), the leading Chinese manufacturer of cookware.

The Fund exited Chinese robotics company Estun Automation (China: Industrials) and chip designer MediaTek (Taiwan: Information Technology), on valuation grounds. The Fund also sold Natura (Brazil: Consumer Staples) due to reduced conviction in the quality of management and their ability to reverse the fortunes of the franchise.

Outlook

The Fund continue to focus on bottom-up analysis of the fundamental quality of stewards, franchises, and financials and the sustainable growth tailwinds these businesses might enjoy. The Manager believes this remains the best way to continue protecting and growing clients' capital in emerging markets.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

The main detractors to performance over the period were Glodon (China: Information Technology), the leading provider of construction software in China which suffered from top-down concerns over economic growth in the region, and Foshan Haitian Flavouring (China: Consumer Staples) which declined following some weak sales growth as the company seeks to evolve the business towards more specialist condiments.

On the positive side, the well governed, family-owned, Indian conglomerate Mahindra & Mahindra (India: Consumer Discretionary) was a strong contributor as it continues to invest to build a more robust franchise. Hoya (Japan: Health Care), the high quality, Japanese IT business was also a positive contributor. The company continues to drive growth benefiting from their leadership in extreme ultraviolet mask blanks.

Portfolio Changes

Over the period the Fund bought Telekom Indonesia (Indonesia: Communication Services). The company has a strong track record of growth and profitability, sitting as the backbone of Indonesia's digital growth. The Fund also bought Yifeng Pharmacy Chain (China: Consumer Staples), a pharmaceutical retail chain in China, and semiconductor manufacturer Infineon Technologies (Germany: Information Technology), which is listed in Germany but derives more than 60% of its revenue from customers in the Asia Pacific region.

The Fund sold out of its holdings in Techtronic Industries (Hong Kong: Industrials) after reflecting on the quality of the management, Pidilite Industries (India: Materials) for reasons of valuation and Public Bank (Malaysia: Financials), a comparatively new addition to the Fund, because the Manager identified better risk-reward opportunities in other new investments.

Outlook

Views on investment opportunities in Asia have not changed; the Fund continues to look to invest in high-quality companies that are aligned with sustainable development. The Fund looks for stewards who prefer anonymity over notoriety, franchises that are unencumbered by political patronage and financials that are resilient, not frail. Focus is on quality and the Fund remains indifferent to many of the large, well-known companies, regardless of lower valuations.

The company has a strong track record of growth and profitability sitting as the backbone of Indonesia's digital growth. The Fund also started positions in Zhejiang Supor (China: Consumer Discretionary) the leading manufacturer of cookware and small domestic appliances in China and Cyient (India: Information Technology). Under a new management team, Cyient has set itself on a clear path of improvement as they refocus their efforts on becoming a leading provider of outsourced engineering services.

The Fund sold out of Techtronic Industries (Hong Kong: Industrials) due to mounting concerns over the quality of the management, Public Bank (Malaysia: Financials) and Infosys (India: Information Technology) to fund better risk-reward opportunities in other new investments.

Outlook

Views on investment opportunities in Asia have not changed; the Fund continues to look to invest in high-quality companies that are aligned with sustainable development. The Fund looks for stewards who prefer anonymity over notoriety, franchises that are unencumbered by political patronage and financials that are resilient, not frail. Focus is on quality and the Fund remains indifferent to many of the large, well-known companies, regardless of lower valuations.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Weichai Power as it reported solid sales in heavy duty trucks, underpinned by strong exports. Midea rose on expectations of solid earnings results, as external industry data pointed to strong demand for Midea's air-conditioner units. On the negative side, China Merchants Bank (CMB) declined as China's property market slowdown fuelled concerns on mortgage repayments and bank stocks in general. China Mengniu Dairy weakened on concerns about its capital allocation strategy. In a recent meeting with the CEO, this topic was discussed and it was suggested that Mengniu will prioritise profit growth going forward.

Portfolio Changes

There were no significant new purchases over the period. The Fund divested Thinkingdom Media Group to consolidate into higher conviction ideas.

Outlook

In recent months, members of the team visited Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangdong Province to meet with companies. It now appears that the initial optimism around China's post-Covid reopening has been tempered with a more conservative outlook about China's mid-term growth. Although pent-up demand had helped to boost restaurants and travel, the economy in general has been more lacklustre.

Despite the near-term weakness, the Fund remains positive about China over the long term. As China matures, investor expectations will eventually adjust to a slower rate of growth. With this backdrop in mind, the Fund continues to look for companies that have good management, strong competitive advantages and attractive returns. The companies the Fund likes to own are typically industry leaders that should benefit from gaining market share over weaker rivals, or those that have been improving their returns and expanding their customer markets.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

The main performance detractors were DiaSorin (Italy: Health Care) whose business has been impacted by a reduction in covid-related sales and Alfen (Netherlands: Industrials) the Dutch maker of electric vehicle (EV) charging stations, smart grid and energy storage technologies which was impacted by pressures in their EV charging station segment.

Performance was boosted by strong results from Spectris (UK: Information Technology), a maker of precision instruments and controls and Deutsche Post DHL Group (Germany: Industrials), the world's largest logistics provider.

Portfolio Changes

Over the period the Fund invested in Assa Abloy (Sweden: Industrials) which focuses on security products from locks to biometric access, EPAM Systems (US: Information Technology), a founder-controlled, IT services company and Nexans (France: Industrials), the largest vertically integrated cable manufacturer in the world. In addition, the Fund initiated positions in two relatively small companies that are serial acquirers of niche private businesses, namely DiscoverIE (UK: Industrials), and Teqnon (Sweden: Industrials).

The Fund divested from Tomra (Norway: Industrials), due to increasing concerns over their margins, competition and outlook versus its valuation. Diploma (UK: Industrials), Beijer Ref (Sweden: Industrials) and NIBE Industrier (Sweden: Industrials) were all sold due to valuation reasons. The concurrent sale of these industrial companies was purely coincidental. The Fund does not take top-down sector or benchmark-related decisions.

Outlook

The Fund continues to strive to hold companies which, in combination, can help make the portfolio resilient across a range of fast-fluctuating market environments. The goal of consistently good performance in all circumstances can never be attained, but the Fund aims for consistency in as many different market environments as possible. The Manager believes this is the best way to deliver good overall performance over the long term.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

Key contributors to performance included Netease, which gained after the management reiterated its positive outlook for the business. China Overseas Grand Oceans (COGO) was boosted by expectations of further policy support for the property market. COGO's strong brand name and low funding costs should make it a beneficiary of the industry shake-out. On the negative side, JD.com fell on concerns of slowing sales growth and rising competition. On the other hand, the franchise is still solid, consumer mindshare is strong and valuations are very attractive. China Merchants Bank declined as China's property market slowdown fuelled concerns on mortgage repayments and bank stocks in general.

Portfolio Changes

The Fund bought Centre Testing, the biggest private testing, inspection and certification company in China. The company's prospects are liked given the potential for industry consolidation, gaining market share from inefficient state-owned enterprises and deepening business with key accounts such as Wal-Mart. The Fund also bought Kanzhun, the leader in China's online recruitment industry. It has disrupted the industry with a recommendation-based direct chat model, and has superior user engagement and recruitment effectiveness over its peers.

The Fund sold Jiangsu Hengrui to consolidate the portfolio into higher conviction ideas.

Outlook

In recent months, members of the team visited Shanghai, Shenzhen and Guangdong Province to meet with companies. It now appears that the initial optimism around China's post-Covid reopening has been tempered with a more conservative outlook about China's mid-term growth. Although pent-up demand had helped to boost restaurants and travel, the economy in general has been more lacklustre.

Despite the near-term weakness, the Fund remains positive about China over the long term. As China matures, investor expectations will eventually adjust to a slower rate of growth. With this backdrop in mind, the Fund continues to look for companies that have good management, strong competitive advantages and attractive returns. The companies the Fund likes to own are typically industry leaders that should benefit from gaining market share over weaker rivals, or those that have been improving their returns and expanding their customer markets.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Performance

The Fund launched during the period. The main detractors to performance over the period were Aavas Financiers (India: Financials) which declined on concerns over valuation but remains well positioned to deliver solid long term growth. Mahindra Logistics (India: Industrials) declined following a slowdown in e-commerce and consumer markets. An acquisition of an express delivery company also affected the company's financial performance.

On the positive side, CG Power (India: Industrials) delivered solid growth in sales and profits under Muruguappa stewardship and Tube Investments (India: Consumer Discretionary), the industrials business who's founding family stand out for their stewardship, gained as the business reiterated a focus on consistent profitability.

Portfolio Changes

Over the period the Fund exited Infosys (India: Information Technology) – a leading IT services company and Pidilite Industries (India: Materials) on valuation grounds and Mahindra Logistics as the Fund struggled to build further conviction in the focus and evolution of the franchise.

The Fund initiated a position in Cyient (India: Information Technology), a smaller IT services provider and Mahindra & Mahindra Financial Services (India: Financials). Mahindra Finance is a rural non-banking finance company, majority-owned by the Mahindra Group.

Outlook

In a scenario of rising geopolitical tensions and macroeconomic uncertainty, the Fund continues to believe that bottom-up analysis, with a focus on fundamental quality and sustainable growth tailwinds, is the best route to tapping into the opportunities and protecting against the risks of investing in the Indian subcontinent. The Fund continues to be positive about the Indian subcontinent as a long-term investment opportunity.

First Sentier Investors Global Umbrella Fund plc

Notes forming part of the financial statements for the period ended 30 June 2023

1. Organisation

First Sentier Investors Global Umbrella Fund plc (the “Company”) was incorporated on 18 June 1998 and registered as an open-ended umbrella investment company with variable capital in Ireland under the Companies Act, 2014. The authorised share capital of the Company is five hundred billion shares of no par value initially designated as unclassified shares.

The sole objective of the Company is the collective investment in transferable securities and/or in other liquid financial assets referred to in the Central Bank UCITS Regulations of capital raised from the public and which operates on the principle of risk spreading.

2. Principal accounting policies

(a) Basis of presentation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), and interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee of the IASB.

The comparative figures included for the Statement of Financial Position (“SFP”) relate to the previous year ended 31 December 2022, while the comparative figures included for the Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Redeemable Participating Shareholders and Statement of Cash flows relate to the six-month period ended 30 June 2022.

The accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are consistent with those used in the Company’s most recent annual financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2022.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expense. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. If in the future such estimates and assumptions, which are based on management’s best judgement at the date of the financial statements deviate from the actual outcome, the original estimates and assumptions will be modified as appropriate in the financial period which the circumstances change.

The financial statements have also been prepared in accordance with the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2015 (the “Central Bank UCITS Regulations”) and the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission (“SFC”) Code on Unit Trust and Mutual Funds (the “Code”).

A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to shareholders, any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of shares and any deemed disposal of shares for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of the holding of shares for an eight-year period or more. No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

5. Soft commission

All research and advisory services are paid by the Managers/Sub-Managers and there are no soft commissions as part of trading.

6. Financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss

In determining an instrument's placement within the fair value hierarchy, the Directors separate the Company's investment portfolio into two categories: investments and derivative instruments. Each of these categories can further be divided between financial assets or financial liabilities.

Investments

Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets and are therefore classified within Level 1, include active listed equities and bonds, certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, and certain money market securities. The Directors do not adjust the quoted price for such instruments, even in situations where the Company holds a large position and a sale could reasonably impact the quoted price.

6. Financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

Investments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, most government agency securities, certain mortgage products, investment-grade corporate bonds, certain bank loans and bridge loans and less liquid listed equities, bonds state, municipal and provincial obligations and investments in other funds. As Level 2 investments include positions that are not traded in active markets and/or are subject to transfer restrictions, valuations may be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, which are generally based on available market information.

Investments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently or not at all. Level 3 instruments include certain investments valued using an estimate of fair value. When observable prices are not available for these securities, the Directors use one or more valuation techniques (e.g., the market approach or the income approach) for which sufficient and reliable data is available. Within Level 3, the use of the market approach generally consists of using comparable market transactions, while the use of the income approach generally consists of the net present value of estimated future cash flows, adjusted as appropriate for liquidity, credit, market and/or other risk factors. The Level 3 investments are priced by the relevant competent party and the method is approved by the Directors.

Level 3 valuations are reviewed on a monthly basis by the FSI – Fair Value Pricing Committee (“FVPC”). The FVPC considers the appropriateness of the valuation model inputs, as well as the valuation result using various valuation methods and techniques generally recognised as standard within the industry.

Derivative contracts

Derivative instruments can be exchange-traded or privately negotiated over-the-counter (“OTC”). Exchange-traded derivatives, such as warrants and future contracts, and OTC derivatives, such as forward currency contracts, credit default swaps and interest rate swaps, are typically classified within Level 1 or Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy depending on whether or not they are deemed to be actively traded.

The Company considers the transfers between different levels to occur when there is a change in significant observable and unobservable inputs for a particular investment.

The Company’s assets and liabilities (by class) not measured at fair value but for which fair value is disclosed have the following levels: Level 1 - cash and cash equivalents, margin accounts, bank overdrafts, Level 2 - remaining classes of financial assets and liabilities on the Statement of Financial Position. These assets and liabilities are carried at amortised cost; their carrying values are a reasonable approximation of fair value.

8. Derivative contracts

Future contracts

Future contracts are commitments either to purchase or sell a designated financial instrument, currency, commodity or an index at a specified future date for a specified price and may be settled in cash or another financial asset. Futures are standardised exchange-traded contracts. Initial margin requirements for futures are met in cash or other instruments, and changes in the future contract values are settled daily. Future contracts have little credit risk because the counterparties are futures exchanges. Future contracts result in exposure to market risk based on changes in market prices relative to contracted amounts. Market risks arise due to the possible movement in foreign currency exchange rates, indices, and securities' values underlying these instruments. In addition, because of the low margin deposits normally required in relation to notional contract sizes, a high degree of leverage may be typical of a futures account.

As a result, a relatively small price movement in an underlying of a futures contract may result in substantial losses to the Company.

Futures trading may also be illiquid. Certain futures exchanges do not permit trading in particular futures contracts at prices that represent a fluctuation in price during a single day's trading beyond certain set limits. If prices fluctuate during a single day's trading beyond those limits, the Company could be prevented from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and thus could be subject to substantial losses.

Notional amounts are the underlying reference amounts to stock exchange indices, equities and foreign currencies upon which the fair value of the futures traded by the Company are based. While notional amounts do not represent the current fair value and are not necessarily indicative of the future cash flows of the Company's futures, the underlying price changes in relation to the variables specified by the notional amounts affect the fair value of these derivative financial instruments. The fair value of future contracts entered into by the Company as at 30 June 2022 is disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI. The counterparty for all futures contracts is JP Morgan Securities LLC.

Forward contracts

Forward contracts are contractual agreements to buy or sell a specified financial instrument at a specific price and date in the future. Forwards are customised contracts transacted in the OTC market. The Funds may enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to manage the currency risk arising from the Funds' investment or anticipated investment in investments denominated in foreign currencies. Forward contracts may be used for hedging and currency management of both local and foreign currencies. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI. The counterparties for all the forward contracts are HSBC Bank, Commonwealth Bank Sydney, UBS and JBM Chase Sydney.

8. Derivative contracts (continued)

Interest rate swaps

Swaps are contractual agreements between two parties to exchange streams of payments over time based on specified notional amounts. Interest rate swaps relate to contracts taken out by the Company with major brokers in which the Company either receives or pays a floating rate of interest in return for paying or receiving a fixed rate of interest. The payment flows are usually netted against each other, with the difference being paid by one party to the other. The Company may obtain interest rate swaps for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and to hedge against interest rate risk. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI.

Credit Default Swaps

Credit default swaps represent a commitment with a counterparty to provide a level of credit protection in exchange for a commitment to pay interest at a fixed rate based on the potential risk of default of the relevant underlying issuer. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI.

Warrants

Warrants give the holder the right to purchase securities from the issuer at a specific price within a certain time frame. Warrants are recorded as an asset or liability at their fair value on the SFP. Fair value as determined by the Administrator is the quoted market price as provided by electronic feed from one or more reputable price vendors. The change in fair value, if any, is recorded as an unrealised gain or loss in the SCI. Realised gains or losses on warrants are shown in the SCI. On the expiry of a warrant the amount previously recognised in the SFP is recognised in the SCI as a realised gain or loss.
