WHAT IS THIS PRODUCT?

PineBridge Global Focus Equity Fund is a sub-fund of the PineBridge Global Funds (the “Fund”). The Fund is constituted in the form of a unit trust. It is domiciled in Ireland and its home regulator is the Central Bank of Ireland.

OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT STRATEGY
Objectives

The Sub-Fund seeks to achieve growth at a reasonable price (meaning securities that have a growth potential and are reasonably priced as determined by conventional measures, such as priced earnings or by comparison to other securities in the same market and the same industry) by making equity and equity-related investments in global markets with a focus on superior and sustainable earnings performance.

² As the Class is not yet launched, the ongoing charges figure is an annualized figure based on the estimated expenses for the 6 months ended 30 June 2019 and expressed as a percentage over the estimated average net asset value of the class of unit for the corresponding period. This figure may vary from year to year.

Strategy

The Sub-Fund's investments will be allocated across global markets. The Sub-Fund may use financial derivative instruments ("FDIs") including, but not limited to futures, options, swaps, forwards, and warrants for efficient portfolio management (including hedging) purposes only. The Sub-Fund will not use FDIs extensively for any purpose. The Sub-Fund has no restrictions as to the proportion of assets allocation to companies of any particular market capitalisation and may invest across a range of economic sectors and industries.

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS?

Investment involves risks. Please refer to the offering document for details including the risk factors.

Equity Risk

- The value of equity and equity-related securities will be affected by economic, political, market, and issuer-specific changes, regardless of company specific performance. Different industries, financial markets, and securities can react differently to these changes. Moreover, such fluctuations of a Sub-Fund's value are often worsened in the short-term.

Market Volatility Risk

- All markets are subject to volatility based on prevailing economic conditions. Some of the markets or exchanges on which the Sub-Fund may invest may prove to be highly volatile from time to time.

Portfolio Concentration Risk

- An investment strategy with a fewer number of holdings may be subject to a greater degree of volatility and risk than a portfolio which is less concentrated.

Country Selection Risk

- The Sub-Fund's performance is often derived from its allocations to certain countries. These allocations may present greater opportunities and potential for capital appreciation, but may subject the Sub-Fund to higher risk of loss.

Financial Derivative Instruments Risk

- The leverage effect embedded in derivatives may result in substantial losses including and up to the total value of the assets of the Sub-Fund and the prices of derivatives can be highly volatile. The use of FDIs may expose the Sub-Fund to various types of risk, including but not limited to, counterparty, liquidity, correlation, credit, volatility, valuation and settlement risks which can have an adverse effect on the net asset value of the Sub-Fund.

Investment Loss Risk

- The instruments invested by the Sub-Fund may fall in value and therefore your investment in the Sub-Fund may suffer losses.
- The value of the Sub-Fund may be adversely affected by developments in political, economical and social conditions and policies of the markets in which it invests which may result in losses to your investment.

Eurozone Debt Crisis Risk

- In light of the fiscal conditions and concerns on sovereign debt of certain European countries (in particular, Portugal, Ireland, Italy, Greece and Spain), the Sub-Fund may be subject to a number of risks (such as higher volatility risk, liquidity risk, currency risk, default risk) arising from a potential crisis in the Eurozone.
- The crisis could potentially unfold in a number of ways, including but not limited to, credit downgrade of a country, one or several countries exiting the Eurozone, re-introduction of one or more individual currencies within the Eurozone, default of a sovereign within the Eurozone, potential dissolution of the Euro or partial or full break-up of the Eurozone. These potential developments, or market perceptions concerning these and related issues, could adversely affect the value of the Units of the Sub-Fund.

Distributions from Capital Risk

- Dividends, if any, may be paid out of the capital of the Sub-Fund. Where the Manager determines in its discretion to pay distributions in respect of the Sub-Fund, investors should note that such distributions amount to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment.
- Such distributions may result in an immediate decrease in the net asset value of the Sub-Fund.

Investment in Russia risk

- There are significant risks inherent in investing in Russia such as economic and political unrest, potential absence of a transparent and reliable legal system to enforce the rights of creditors and Unitholders, different standards of corporate governance and investor protection, and uncertainty regarding structural reforms. When investing in Russian companies, the evidence of legal title to shares is maintained in book entry form. As registrars are not subject to effective government supervision, there is a possibility that a Sub-Fund could lose its registration through fraud, negligence, oversight or catastrophe. Registrars are not required to maintain insurance against these occurrences, and are unlikely to have sufficient assets to compensate the Sub-Fund in the event of loss.

HOW HAS THE SUB-FUND PERFORMED?

- Past performance information is not indicative of future performance. Investors may not get back the full amount invested.
- The computation basis of the performance is based on the calendar year end, NAV-To-NAV, with dividend reinvested.
- These figures show by how much the unit class increased or decreased in value during the calendar year being shown. Performance data has been calculated in USD, including ongoing charges and excluding subscription fee and redemption fee you might have to pay.
- Class L is an active unit class available for Hong Kong retail investors. It has been chosen to be the representative unit class for disclosure of past performance information in this statement.
- Material Change to the Sub-Fund: From inception, the benchmark of the Sub-Fund was the MSCI All Country World Daily Total Return Net Index. On 1 March 2011, the benchmark of the Sub-Fund was changed to MSCI World Index Daily Total Return Net Index. Such change was made because such benchmark was considered more reflective of the Sub-Fund's investment strategy and it had become the industry standard for the relevant exposure. From 10 February 2014 to 26 October 2016, the benchmark of the Sub-Fund was changed to the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) as it was more reflective of the Sub-Fund's investment strategy and country allocation and in particular, it includes exposure to emerging markets. With effect from 27 October 2016, the benchmark of the Sub-Fund was changed to MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) Daily Total Return Net because the Investment Managers of the Sub-Fund reasonably consider that such benchmark is more reflective of the Sub-Fund's investment strategy than the previous benchmark.
- The benchmark of the Sub-Fund is MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) Daily Total Return Net.
- Sub-Fund / Class L launch date: 7 January 1999
