China New Balance Opportunity Fund (the "Fund") Manager Report - 2018 2018 Market Review

In 2018, the Hong Kong stock market suffers a single direction decline. Except for the first month of the year, the rest of the month was drawing a downward trend. The main factors attribute to the trend of the Hong Kong stock market in 2018 were both internal and external factors. First of all, the internal factors are derived from the cyclical slowdown of Chinese macro economy, especially after decades of high-speed growth followed by the supply-side reform of the upstream industry in 2016 and 2017. At the same time, the cyclical slowdown of the macro economy also combined with the tighter than expected "de-leverage" policy in the first half of the year. These macroeconomic and policy factors have led to a reversal of the earnings growth trend of listed companies in major industries. The external factor was the risk appetite of investors declined rapidly due to concerns on the China/US trade war. From an industry perspective, all growth industries have experienced significant valuation downgrades in 2018, IT, Electronics, Health Care, Insurance, Automobiles, New Energy and Education, etc. resulting from policy factors, fundamental factors, and sentiment factors. In addition, as the impact of upstream supply-side reforms continues, the profitability of the upstream raw materials industry remains high. The cyclical industry performs better than the growth industry.

Fund performance

The fund's 2018 annual return is -32.97%. From the fund level, in 2018, the sectors with positive contribution to the NAV were mainly concentrated in the real estate and financial. The sectors that contributed negatively to the NAV were mainly concentrated in the Automobile, TMT and Heath Care.

Market Outlook for 2019

Standing on the beginning of the year, we see that both internal and external factors affecting the 2018 market are improving. Internal concerns about policy directions are gradually alleviating, especially for private sector. Although the de-leverage policy has been implemented in the first half of the year, it currently stabilized. Since the market has experienced rapid de-leveraging in the past year or two, the policy loopholes regarding overleveraging in financial sector have been fully removed, and the channel for leveraging have been compressed. State-owned enterprises are still suffering from the pain of deleveraging. Private sector have experienced the deleverage over the past four years and took the lead in repaying debt. In the next two or three years, we expect to see the private sector increase leverage and increase investment. Polity side, industry policies have gradually improved and marginalized. The final test is the bottoming out of the macro economy. The current market consensus is that the macro economy will emerge at the bottom after the second quarter of 2019. However, it depends on whether the infrastructure investment and positive fiscal policy in 2019 can beat the slowdown in real estate investment. The China/US trade conflict is also moving in the direction of negotiating the issue. In the next two to three years, Chinese assets will be the first choice for foreign institutional investors to increase their allocation in emerging markets due to their valuation advantages compared to other emerging markets. The increase in the allocation of the Chinese market by foreign institutional investors will be almost certain. Meanwhile, the Hong Kong stock market has undergone reform of the listing system of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange to encourage the new economy and new industry to be listed in Hong Kong. The listed companies are becoming more and more diversified, and the scarcity of investment targets will be more and more attractive for investors. More importantly in the long run, the capacity of the Hong Kong stock market is still very large. Firstly, the low valuation advantage still exists. The other is that after the integration trend of the Shanghai-Shenzhen-Hong Kong market is gradually deepened. The allocation factor for domestic institutions remains valid. We believe that the capital markets of the Mainland and Hong Kong are mutually integrated. The interconnection is the driving force for investment in the Hong Kong stock market in the next three to five years. The interaction between two market investors and valuation will become more and more obvious. This is a great era for the evolution of China's financial market. Under the Hong Kong Stock Connect program, within 2-3 years, mainland funds are expecting to be accounted for more than 50% of the turnover of Hong Kong stocks. Within 10 years, the investment of the mainland funds accounted for more than 50% of the market share is foreseeable.

CSOP RMB High Yield Bond Fund (the "Fund") Manager Report - 2018

2018 turned out to be a very challenging year for Asian USD Bond market. Spreads for Asian credits kept widening over the year, while IG outperformed HY. According to FTSE Asia Broad Bond Index, Asian IG and HY market recorded -0.04% and -3.83% negative annual returns respectively.

UST yield curve ended up flattened and partially inverted at end of the year, as Fed hiked interest rate four times during 2018 and benchmark UST yields advanced across the curve with short-end took the lead. Trade tension between the US and China have escalated significantly during the year, even as the focus on deleveraging in Chinese economy has already hurt domestic credit growth especially for the smaller players. Coupled with the drag from USTs, sentiment for Asian credit markets has remained very weak for most part of the year with only short-lived rallies seen in August and December.

Tightening external USD liquidity eventually reversed RMB's initial appreciation course by end of April, when USDCNY and USDCNH FX spot rate touched 2018 low at respectively 6.2431 and 6.2361 intraday on March 27. China policy makers introduced series of stabilizing and easing measures thereafter, which helped to bring down offshore RMB's yield level, mostly seen in the short end, although boost to China offshore risky assets remained limited. USDCNY advanced non-stop to 6.9770 in 4Q, only retrieved lower moderately after Fed's turning dovish and hope for China-US trade truce kicked in.

Looking at primary market, bond sales stand at $228 billion for Asia market, a 22.5% decrease from the 2017 peak of $294 billion. Chinese issuers took up 67% of the total issuance, indicating an enormous need for refinancing due to maturity wall and tight onshore financing. The dim sum bond market saw similar pattern where outstanding continued to shrink, and consequently re-investment risks rose.

As for investment strategy, we have been cautious and selective throughout the year given high volatility and weak sentiment in the market. We overweight China property sector and tactical trades were conducted for selective names to take advantage of swinging in high beta names. We also added exposure to oil sector in our portfolio due to the attractive valuation as a result of the slump in oil price and overly pessimistic outlook. Meanwhile on the FX front, we firstly adjusted exposure to RMB to the minimum allowed by end of 1Q after CNY appreciated through 6.50 marks, and reversed to overweight RMB exposure in 4Q when CNY depreciated below 6.90.

Looking into 2019, we expect it to be another difficult year for Asian credits as the same risk factors that have been weighing down the market in 2018 is expected to stay in play in 1H. The US import tariffs will start to exert its first year impact on China's economy and will indirectly affect other EM Asia countries. More attention should also be given to China's domestic economy where the struggle between deleveraging and growth is still in place. However, we believe risk appetite should get boosted in the next year from the Fed finally signaling a current close-to-neutral policy rate.

What we have audited

The Fund's financial statements comprise:

- the statement of net assets as at 31 December 2018:
- the schedule of investments as at 31 December 2018;
- the statement of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 23 July 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23 July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our audit report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund;

- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's or any of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the "Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé" to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the "Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé". However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund or any of its sub-funds except for CSOP RMB High Yield Bond Fund where a decision to liquidate exists to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Unaudited Supplementary Information

Global Exposure

The SICAV uses a risk-management process that enables to monitor and measure at any time the risk of the Sub-Funds' portfolio positions and their contribution to the overall risk profile of the SICAV.

The Commitment Approach is used for both Sub-Funds.

Global Exposure is measured with the Commitment Approach calculated along the guidelines of ESMA 10-788.

European Regulation (EU) 2015/2365 on the transparency of financial transactions in securities and reuse of collateral (Securities Financing Transactions or SFTR)

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the SICAV did not enter into securities financing transactions and total return swaps.

Remuneration policies and practices

The Management Company has established and applies a remuneration policy and practices that are consistent with, and promote, sound and effective risk management and that neither encourage risk taking which is inconsistent with the risk profiles, rules, the Prospectus or the Articles nor impair compliance with the Management Company's obligation to act in the best interest of the SICAV (the Remuneration Policy).

The Remuneration Policy includes fixed and variable components of salaries and applies to those categories of staff, including senior management, risk takers, control functions and any employee receiving total remuneration that falls within the remuneration bracket of senior management and risk takers whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profiles of the Management Company, the SICAV or the Sub-Funds. Within the Management Company, these categories of staff represent 22 persons.

The Remuneration Policy is in line with the business strategy, objectives, values and interests of the Management Company, the SICAV and the Shareholders and includes measures to avoid conflicts of interest.

In particular, the Remuneration Policy will ensure that:

- a) the staff engaged in control functions are compensated in accordance with the achievement of the objectives linked to their functions, independently of the performance of the business areas that they control;
- b) the fixed and variable components of total remuneration are appropriately balanced and the fixed component represents a sufficiently high proportion of the total remuneration to allow the operation of a fully flexible policy on variable remuneration components, including the possibility to pay no variable remuneration component;
- c) the measurement of performance used to calculate variable remuneration components or pools of variable remuneration components includes a comprehensive adjustment mechanism to integrate all relevant types of current and future risks.

The following table shows the fixed and variable remuneration in 2018 for the Identified Staff (22 persons), who is fully or partly involved in the activities of all the funds managed by the Management Company. For the purposes of the below disclosures, where portfolio management activities have been formally delegated to another entity, the remuneration of the relevant identified staff of the delegate has been excluded, as it is not paid out by the Management Company or by the SICAV.
